$75,000 On Way In Place Of Funding

Antioch will receive an extra check for $75,179.32 from the state this week. It is one of many Illinois towns and counties to get extra money to help local governments adjust to life without federal revenue sharing.

The money is a one time "shot in the arm," according to Illinois Dept. of Revenue director Roger Sweet. The checks go to 245 cities and counties with annual sales tax revenues of at least $500,000. Lake County will receive a check for $235,772.81.

"Cities and counties were facing a cash flow crunch, so lawmakers created this plan to speed up their regular sales tax revenues," Sweet said. "Basically, local governments will receive 13 sales tax checks this year instead of 12. The extra check is now in the mail."

The department of revenue collects both state and local sales taxes from merchants, then returns the local sales taxes to the proper city or county. Local sales tax revenues lag behind the actual purchases by two and a half months.

"There are taxes being collected by merchants today that cannot be counted, processed, allocated and paid to the local governments for many weeks," Sweet said. "This lag will always exist. So we have estimated each city's average monthly check, based on last year's receipts and given the cities this estimated amount."

"Now these local governments are, more or less, caught up. We will continue to process returns as usual, sending out monthly checks based on actual receipts. Then every March, we'll make a minor adjustment in the account to make up for the difference in our estimate and the actual collection the previous year. For the most part, this adjustment will reflect growth."

Church Plans Missions Conference

The Antioch Evangelical Free Church will present its annual Missions Conference April 5, 8 and 12. The theme of this year's conference will be, "What in the World is God Doing?"

On April 5, Dr. Edward Rommen will be speaking at the 10:15 a.m. service. Dr. Rommen is a native of Staten Island, N.Y. and a graduate of Nyack College, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in Deerfield and the University of Munich in Germany, where he earned a doctor of theology degree.

He has worked with the Evangelical Free Church of America as church planter, field chairman, and guest lecturer in West Germany since 1972. He has published numerous articles in both English and German.

The topic of Dr. Rommen's message will be, "How God is Working in the World," and will be an overview of different mission involvements around the world.

The evening of April 5, there will be a potluck supper at 4:30 p.m. followed by a report in the 6 p.m. service from Jim and Annette Carmean.

The Carmeans are one of 21 couples supported by the AEFC, and have served for 20 years in Venezuela. They are now working in the home office of the Evangelical Alliance Mission in Wheaton.

On Wednesday, April 8, there will be an exciting missionary film entitled, "Kum Ba Ya" for the Awana Clubbers and their families.

On Sunday, April 12, Mark Wilhite will speak on "Our Response to What God is Doing."

Wilhite is the son of an Evangelical Free Church pastor, Rev. Clyde Wilhite of Aurora, Colo., and became involved in missions while competing in eastern Europe as an all-American decathlete from Wheaton College.

Elliston Retires From ACHS After 25 Years

At its last regular meeting, the Antioch High School Board of Education accepted the resignation of chemistry teacher Richard Elliston, who is presently completing his 25th year of service at the high school.

Supt. Gary Allen presented the board with a list of 250 students who have achieved the high honor roll list at least once during the last nine weeks of the 1985-86 school year and the first two nine-week sessions of the 1986-87 school year.

Of the 250 students, 131 have made the high honor roll three times. To appear on the high honor roll, a student must earn a 4.5 grade point average.

A high honor roll banquet is planned for May 19 for those students who achieve high honor roll status three of the four grading periods in a one-year period.

Business Manager Ken Wierschem reported on the math/science loan program.

Implement Math Program At Dist. 34 Schools

by CINDY KUJAK

At a Dist. 34 Board of Education meeting, the board accepted the recommendation of the math curriculum committee and teachers that the Addison-Wesley (1987) math program be accepted for grades kindergarten through fifth. The teachers stated that the program has solid skills development with lots of practice opportunities, review and application, and teacher support materials to provide resources to meet the challenges of classroom situations.

It was decided that the discipline committee would continue as is. Supt. Don Skidmore said that detention causes problems, but there is no other solution.

Book fees for 1987/88 were approved as they stood for this year.

The board approved a resolution to honor the Illinois Prevailing Wage Act (passed in July), which states that contractors, etc., doing work at the school be paid prevailing wages.

Approval was given by the board to join the Lake Forest High School cooperative bid to purchase 500 cases of copy paper. Because of fast rising costs it was calculated that Under this program, Antioch Community High School has received a grant for $13,103 for the purchase of equipment to be used in the math and science curriculum.

The board also set graduation date for Sunday, June 7 at 2 p.m.

Principal Art Blecke made a report on the progress of the Weighted Grade Committee. The committee will continue to study the possibility of implementing a weighted grade system for Antioch Community High School.

In other business, the board approved the request of Eastern Illinois University to place Sharon Pitcher as a physical education student teacher from August through mid-November of the 1987-88 school year.

The board was informed that at the current time, 1,660 students are enrolled for the 1987-88 school year. It is expected that the enrollment for next year will be approximately 1,750.

purchasing the paper in a two-year supply would be more financially advisable than investing the money.

In other business, the board granted approval to participate with the Social Security Administration in listing numbers to all dependents five years of age or older by the deadline, Jan. 1, 1988.

Notification was received from the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund (IMRF) that due to a change in state law, a separate tax must be levied on the 1987 levy for the IMRF and Social Security employer contributions. As part of the new Social Security levy, a 1.45 percent employer contribution must be levied for employees who have been employed since April 1986.

Earl Bush distributed information on the summer band proposal.

The president of the Antioch Teachers Union requested a meeting to begin negotiations for 1987/88. They will have their initial meeting on Monday, March 30.

Skidmore praised teachers for their attendance average, with an absence of only 4.5 days during the past four years.

Smoke Detector Saves Joanna Court Apartment

Anyone who doesn't believe that smoke detectors really work can ask the owner of the apartment in Joanna Courts, whose detector does indeed work, says Wayne Parthun, Chief of the Antioch Fire Prevention Bureau.

It was early on a Monday morning in March when the dispatcher for the Antioch Fire Dept. received a call from a resident of Joanna Courts who had heard his neighbor's smoke alarm ringing. He investigated and noted that the apartment was filling with smoke.

The apartment renter had emptied the ashtray into the waste basket before leaving for work. The cigarette butts and ashes were not yet cooled down, and ignited the contents of the waste basket.

The fire smoldered and the smoke filled the room and set off the smoke detector. The only damage to the apartment was caused when the fire department had to knock in the front door to gain entry.

Several years ago, when the Fire Prevention Bureau of the Antioch Fire Dept. presented to the village a proposal for a smoke detector ordinance, it took several tries to convince trustees that such an ordinance, if enacted, could save lives and property. Meetings with multi-family property owners proved successful. They accepted the ordinances with an open mind and complied.

The First Fire Protection Dist. of Antioch Twp. also adopted a smoke detector ordinance and acceptance by multi-family properties has been successful.

Smoke detectors are available at the fire station, 835 Holbek Dr., Antioch, for only $7, on Tuesdays, Wednesday and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Smoke detectors can save lives!

Surprise! Election April 7

One of the best kept secrets in our town during the unusually mild winter and the early arrival of spring is the fact that there's going to be an election Tuesday, April 7. Little excitement has been generated. Few voters seem interested. But there will be an election. It's the law.

Contests are few and far between in the Lakeland area. Some of the traditional battlegrounds like Fox Lake and Round Lake, for example, have fairly lively campaigns in progress. In a number of municipalities in this locality, however, office seekers are getting a free ride.

Why the solitude?

One theory is that the electorate is pretty satisfied with its local village government. A part of this hypothesis is that the growing number of inter-governmental agreements is providing solutions to once vexing problems, particularly sanitation and water. Law and order hasn't been a problem for a long time. Local law enforcement now is at a highly professional level. Plenty is being spent for public safety, yet we're getting value received. One headache remains and that's solid waste disposal.

A plausible explanation as to why things are so tame for the April 7 election is that it is the calm before the storm of township and county board elections a year from now. In case you haven't noticed, the township and county board campaigns for 1988 already have kicked off. These races are overshadowing the April balloting.

Prospects are shaping up for a free-swinging campaign in County Board Dist. 4 of Antioch, Lake Villa, Grant and Avon townships, where two entrenched incumbents, Jim Fields of Antioch and Fred Popp of Lake Villa, are up for reelection. Solid waste disposal will be an issue next spring. So will regional planning and development, so the 1988 local elections will have plenty of ammunition.

You'll be able to choose up sides early because the township and county board aspirants aren't keeping their plans quiet. Hang on to your hats for '88.

Unworkable Tax Floated

Among the trial balloons being floated in Illinois for new sources of tax revenue is one labeled "Advertising."

As states lurch from side to side in search of more tax revenue, advertising has come up regularly in recent years as a target for the tax collector. Several states have actually tried it, Iowa and Arizona, for example, and a number of municipalities have tried to tax advertising. All of the attempts have been miserable failures. As they say, though, no one seems to learn.

Even as a high level target and a major industry, we suspect that the advertising tax fails because it tampers with some basic American principals—free speech and free enterprise. A tax on advertising would have a chilling effect on business, not only increasing the cost of doing business but also stifling economic growth. We see an advertising tax as totally counterproductive. A study showed that a tax on advertising will actually reduce state revenues. The study showed that each dollar spent on advertising generates $33 in sales. For each advertising dollar used to pay tax instead of to purchase space and time, $1.65 will be lost in sales tax.

On one count alone, the ad tax would be unfair—the fact that it would be double taxation since advertising is a cost of doing business and is already included in the final selling price which is subject to Illinois sales tax.

The ad tax trial balloon should be shot down quickly for the good of all.

Letters To The Editor:

Growth Not An Evil

Editor:

Recently, Don Smith, a member of the Mundelein High School Board, wrote a letter to you urging citizens to support the Open Space Referendum for Fremont Twp. That letter grossly misrepresented facts to further Don's own desires.

If it's true that Dist. 76 wants a 15 percent tax increase, it can't be caused by costs from growth (as Smith insinuates)! Why—because Dist. 76 has less students now than it had in 1977-1979, 1981, 1984-86!

Smith also referred to prospects for a tax rate increase by Mundelein High School because of a "$2 million expansion..." That statement is untrue and inexcusable for a high school member to make since he knows it is untrue! The work being discussed at Mundelein High School is life safety work provided by state laws, and does not involve any expansion! Mundelein High School, too, has seen a steady decrease in its student population (24 percent decrease in the last 10 years)!

Citizens, consider these two examples of untruths being used to sway you to vote to spend $5 million—for starters—to buy land. It doesn't take a genius to see that if the number of students is down, it certainly can't be "growth" and new students pushing school costs up!

Open Space in Fremont Twp? Taxpayers now own 9.5 percent of Fremont Twp. surface. The Lake County Forest Preserve and the Mundelein Park and Recreation Dist. own nine percent of Fremont Twp.!

Proponents of the referendum are playing on the fears and concerns of area citizens about landfills and some ill-advised developments. Proponents are adding another ingredient now—distortions of true facts to influence voters to support the referendum.

Control land use through zoning. We can't buy the township. If citizens feel a specific project deserves opposition—like the landfills, trailer park—yes, they should oppose it! But to oppose all growth based on phony allegations is to allow ourselves to be misled by those who must feel their end goal justifies their means.

It will cause us to all pay dearly. This proposal (at an estimated 5.5 percent interest rate) will cost each homeowner between $85 and $700 per year for years depending on the bond term. Citizens, where would you be living if there were no growth? As a Mundelein resident since the age of three plus, I know that most of our citizens would still be in Chicago or elsewhere.

Don't be used, or abused by this costly ruse!

Colin L. McRae, Mayor
Village of Libertyville

Victory For Liberty

Editor:

When I first moved to the unincorporated area of Lake Villa Township, I thought it was a mistake. It seemed like a "lawless frontier" without much control, organization or enforcement.

I soon became president of the West Millmore Homeowners' Assn., chairman of the President's Council, member of various township committees, and even worked with Fred Foreman on his Citizens' Advisory council. I fought having farm animals on residential lots, abandoned cars, improper construction, poor zoning regulation, etc., etc., all of which were in abundance within my community of 1,800 residents. I did this all proving clearly to myself that the unincorporated area was a "lawless frontier."

What's in a name?

A lot, according to members of the Lake-McHenry Assessors' Assn. That's why they are working to change their title from assessors to township appraisers. The assessors have got State Rep. Bill Peterson in their corner, who is sponsoring legislation to bring about the name change.

Why would anyone rather be an appraiser than an assessor? The dictionary gives a quick answer. Appraisers are involved in setting a price for deciding a value, estimate or judge quality. Assessing is directly related to the taxation process. "To impose a fine, tax or special payment," so says the dictionary.

This won't be an easy one to call. We'll defer to higher authority. One thing is for sure: sooner or later, we're going to get a tax bill. And we'd better pay it.

OBSERVER—Al Sherwood is a throwback to another era—when people got stirred up they fired off a letter to the editor.

Sherwood, retired from the postal service and a former assistant fire chief, observes the passing scene from a comfortable home in Round Lake. He keeps close tabs on happenings and he writes about what he sees.

"One of the nicer things about being retired is that it gives you plenty of time to think up thought-provoking ideas," Sherwood remarked to this writer. Al's approach is to stop and think after he sees something troubling. Then he writes. Sherwood has a knack of sifting through complicated community problems and setting down common sense solutions. Right now he's keeping tabs on a knotty road controversy. "Give me a week or two and I might think of something else," he prefaced one of his letters.

NEW ROLE—Buddy Melges of nearby Zenda, Wis., (Lake Geneva), who became sort of a national celebrity as skipper of "Heart of America," Lake Michigan's entry in the America's Cup sailing competition in Australia, may be carving a new career for himself.

Buddy served as master of ceremonies at the annual Rachel Carson Awards Dinner of the Lake Michigan Federation Sunday, March 22 in Chicago, and made a big hit, keeping the program moving along at a brisk clip and regaling environmentalists with anecdotes about the competition "Down Under." He's available for more MC appearances.

TV Preachers Trivialize Politics And Religion

by JOHN STEINKE

Who are the most disgusting people on the boob tube? In my opinion, they are the false prophets who invade our living rooms through the television screen. Have you ever watched TV evangelists like Jimmy Swaggart, Jim Bakker, Jerry Falwell, Oral Roberts, Pat Robertson or Dr. Gene Scott?

These TV ministers have much in common. Many of them have their own universities, for example, and most have to some degree incorporated secular television styles in the formats of their programs. All hold similar political views. All preach that financial success is a sign of heavenly blessing. And all of them have sophisticated anti-establishment pastor. Recently, Scott relocated his circus to Los Angeles. Guess who attended the Sunday service to welcome Dr. Scott to the city of Nixon and Manson? It was Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley, who is a member of David Rockefeller's Trilateral Commission! You really march to a different drummer, "Doc." "The Doctor" constantly screams "Send me money!" That statement, of course, is the universal message of the TV evangelists.

There aren't any limits to the hypocrisy of these so-called ministers. Jerry Falwell organized the Moral Majority into a powerful political force. Do you know who is Falwell's best friend? It's Joan (Toilet Mouth) Rivers!

Steinke On Politics

direct-mail operations that support their ministries.

Several of them have faced government inquiries into what they do with the contributions they receive, and most of them decline to divulge such information in any detail. The "God-is-Bread" preachers, of course, all claim they have a clear-channel, mega-watt spiritual transmitter aimed directly at the ear of God.

Have you ever viewed Dr. Gene Scott on cable television? He is an eccentric personality who smokes cigars, plays a saxophone and wears silly hats. Scott says that he doesn't believe in gimmicks. Right, Gene. In addition, he portrays himself as an

Mr. Moral Majority. Right. Falwell has endorsed vice president George Bush for the 1988 Republican presidential nomination. Bush is the political creation of the invisible government: The Trilateral Commission.

Now, God (or Charlton Heston) is talking DIRECTLY to some of these "ministers." Apparently, God is a Republican because he has instructed Pat Robertson to run for the presidency in 1988. A vengeful God has threatened Oral Roberts with death unless he improves his direct-mail operation. Currently, Roberts is waging a vigorous send-me-money-or-I-will-die campaign.

Next week, God willing, I will analyze "Pat" Robertson's presidential candidacy.

There were certainly some successes along the way. I met so many great, hard working politicians who gave of themselves freely and worked so very hard. But it always seemed that no one person or group was able to effectively deal with all our problems, not the township, nor the state, and certainly not the county government.

When 2,000 acres of Lake Vila Township land were lost in 1986, I thought that the answer had arrived. Since the villages all seemed "developing and growth crazy," I'd wait till a village surrounded us and took over. But did I really want to be a part of one of the neighboring villages?

Then came Liberty Lakes. I saw this develop out of anger of always being left out of the decision making process. It seemed to me that the 10,000 residents of Liberty Lakes realized that only by staying together would they have a voice.

Regardless of what happens in the Supreme Court, the founders of Liberty Lakes have won in uniting the people for a change. Everyone must realize that Liberty Lakes will never go away for it is people standing together that have the true power.

Of all my involvements in these past years, I have never been so proud of being a part of the revolution for Liberty Lakes. I have renewed my spirit to stay in this area and continue to fight for what I believe. I have learned much from the people associated with Liberty Lakes, for they are real pioneers all with a spirit and pride for America.

Chorus Heads To New York

Waukegan Symphony Chorus members rehearse for their big appearance in New York on April 5, at Avery Fisher Hall in Lincoln Center.

Ready For Big Apple Gig

"New York, New York" is the song being hummed by the Waukegan Symphony Chorus (WSC), now in final preparation for its appearance in New York City's Avery Fisher Hall at Lincoln Center on April 5.

WSC will perform Mozart's "Mass in C Minor" in a massive choral concert featuring six distinguished choruses and the critically acclaimed American Symphony Orchestra, Peter Tiboris conducting.

At the invitation of MidAmerica Productions, Inc., WSC will be in residence in the Big Apple on April 2-6. Work will begin quickly, and a piano rehearsal has already been scheduled for the evening of April 2.

Two more intensive rehearsals with all choruses, soloists and orchestra will be held before the performance.

Tightly fit into this schedule will be preparation for WSC's appearance at the Intra-Choral Concert to be held April 3 at the Armenian Orthodox Cathedral.

Director Don Horisberger

is pleased with the progress at rehearsals and feels that the chorus' preparation is right on schedule.

Rehearsal of the music is not the only concern for the chorus right now. The logistics of moving 90 singers is no small matter. A committee was designated months ago to arrange airplane schedules, transportation to the airport, and transfer of 100-plus pieces of luggage, concert dress, music and folders.

Fundraising has been slow, and many of the singers will be contributing their entire fare. Nevertheless, successful campaigns of pizza sales and Shop 'n Share Days with local supermarkets have been well-orchestrated by another very busy committee. In addition, business and private donations are being contributed.

The Waukegan-Lake County Chamber of Commerce and President Charles Isley III are extremely helpful in providing administrative and logistical support, especially in areas of publicity and fundraising.

Adelines Take Show On Road

The Chain O'Lakes Chapter, Sweet Adelines, Inc., are in the midst of "getting their act together and taking it on the road" to the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel in Grand Rapids, Mich., for their annual Regional Chorus and Quartet Competition on April 10 and 11.

Lake Michigan Region 3 encompasses northern Illinois, northern Indiana and western Michigan, with a membership of over 1,000 women from 21 chapters.

At the annual election of officers of Region 3, three members of the Chain O'Lakes Chapter were elected to the 12-member board: Mame McCormack of Gurnee, to a three-year term; Pat Catencamp of Crystal Lake to a two-year term; and Ruth Clement of Libertyville to a one-year term.

McCormack has been a board member for three years, serving previously as by-laws and rules committee chairman, and is presently the awards chairman.

Sweet Adelines, Inc. is an international non-profit independent corporation dedicated to the teaching and training of its members in the art of singing four-part harmony, barbershop style. Membership is open to women interested in "Harmonizing the World" through singing.

For more information, call (312) 546-6623 or (312) 497-3867.

Swiss Moose

One-third of all accidents on Swedish roads are caused by collisions with large wildlife, especially moose, according to a study by Swedish physicians. Doctors calculated that one in every 10 Swedes who drives more than 12,500 miles a year will collide with a moose during his lifetime.

Anyone interested in helping the chorus may call the Chamber of Commerce office at (312) 249-3800.

Workshop On Adolescence

The Catholic Charities Foster and Adoptive Parents' Guild will sponsor a workshop on developmental tasks of adolescence and appropriate parenting skills at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, March 30, at Cook Memorial Library in Libertyville. Phil Kirschbaum, ACSW, psychotherapy training consultant, will head the program. Foster and adoptive parents, social workers and professionals working with adolescents are invited to attend. Cost is $2.50 for non-guild members. For more information, call (312) 249-3500.

Young Ambassadors To Return To Genesee

It has been three years since Brigham Young University's Young Ambassadors toured Waukegan and they are eager to come back, renewing friendships and sharing their enthusiasm and talent with new audiences.

The company will present a spirited song and dance revue to Waukegan on June 1 and 2 at 7:30 p.m., at the Genesee Theater.

The warm exuberance and polished talent characteristic of the troupe to make them popular performers across the nation and around the world.

Directed by vocal coach Randy Boothe, music director Ron Simpson, and choreographer Mark Huffman, the Young Ambassadors perform a dazzling variety of numbers.

Their program includes the romance of Broadway show tunes, favorite hits from decades past, cleverly stated comic medleys, a spunky western hoe-down, and many other numbers bursting with warmth and life.

This year's show features a medley of songs from the musical "Big River" as well as a 50's selection with numbers such as "Blue Suede Shoes," "Johnny Angel," "Blue Moon," and the theme to "Happy Days."

The program will also include a memorable slice of Americana with radio show tunes, and includes "Wild Warner," a playful song and dance about the monsters in a young boy's dream. The number is complete with colorful, larger-than-life monsters frolicking on stage.

The three-man production team of Boothe, Huffman and Simpson create highly professional shows with pizzazz and showmanship that can be taken anywhere in the world without compromising quality or audience appeal.

The Young Ambassadors toured the Orient in 1986 and every show was a sell-out, including eight unscheduled performances. They traveled internationally during the past 14 years to more than 35 countries in Europe, Asia, South and Central America and the Middle East.

A spring tour will take the company to Canada and 10 of the northeastern United States.

Area Florists Present Show

Six local florists will again host the annual Flow Show in an effort to raise money for the North Chicago Community High School Scholarship Fund.

The 22nd annual Flower Show will be held at the NCCHS Auditorium on Wednesday, April 8 at 7 p.m.

As in past years, The Balms family of Balms Floral in North Chicago and Gurnee has initiated the effort of producing the show and have been joined by Aladdin Flower Shop of Waukegan, Altman's of Round Lake, Larsen Florists of Waukegan, Lewis Florists of Wildwood and Pierce Florists of Waukegan.

Tickets for the show are $4 per person and may be purchased from the six participating florists or from Roycelee Wood, director of personnel support and public relations at NCCHS.

Ramp Fundraiser In Lindenhurst

The Lindenhurst Mens and Women's Club will hold a fundraiser on Saturday and Sunday, March 28 and 29, to provide a ramp for the handicapped at the Civic Center. Club members will collect door-to-door and at the Lindenhurst Plaza. Many stores in the plaza will have donation cans set up. The club thanks the people of Lindenhurst in advance

Giant Egg At Lambs' Farm

A giant Easter egg hunt, a visit from the Easter Bunny and the world's largest Easter egg are all part of the fun during The Lambs' annual Easter Festival April 18 and 19, at The Lambs, two miles east of Libertyville on Rte. 176.

The free Easter egg hunt for children through age 11 will begin on Saturday at 3 p.m. Each one of the more than 2,000 eggs, hidden throughout the Lambs Farm grounds, will be packed with candy and prizes.

All proceed from the Easter Festival will directly benefit The Lambs, Inc. a private non-profit vocational and residential center that serves over 160 mentally retarded adults.

Historical Society Plans Annual Antique Sale

The Lakes Region Historical Society is pleased to announce its Third Annual Antique Show. It will be held at the VFW Action Center, 75 North Ave. in Antioch.

The show is comprised of 25 reliable antique dealers from the midwest. All merchandise is screened and one may buy with confidence. The variety of items ranges from furniture to toothpick holders. Refreshments will be available on the premises.

All proceeds from this antique show will be used to support the Historical Society Museum. The museum is in the old Antioch Grade School building, located at Main and Depot Sts., Antioch.

The Lakes Region Historical Society is a non-profit organization, substantially all work is volunteer and most acquisitions are donated.

The existing museum building is a two-story yellow brick structure. The building retains the original woodwork, wainscoting, hand-carved trim and double stairway. Construction was begun in 1891 and, as of this date, the only known workman was Hugh Gene Dardis, aged 36, from Racine County.

The society hopes to acquire some of his tools for display. As far as can be determined, the initial enrollment of the school was 12 students.

Up until 1915 the second floor was used as a two-year high school. Students wishing to continue their high school education had to attend a school in Waukegan.

Fortunately the original brass school bell was stored by Dist. 34 and was turned over to the society.

An exact replica of the old bell tower was donated to the organization and, after two attempts, the bell has been restored to its original and rightful place on the roof.

The bell bears the following legend: School Dist. 3 Board of Directors, 1887, A.N. Tiffany, Wm. Smart, A.C. Watson, Foundry-P.C. Campbell and Sons, Milwaukee, Wis.

Spring Having Sprung, Carolyn Wants More

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

Well, it's official now; spring has finally "sprung" and brought some pleasant weather to boot! Let's hope that come spring break week, we will have more of the same. Even though winter wasn't too bad, the thought of a week with the free-style tournament, placed fifth in a tough bracket. Vince Zalapi came in fifth, and Jason Stedl, sixth. Brandon Parkhurst was injured 30 seconds into his match, but continued to try to wrestle with one hand eventually losing to his opponent who went to place first in the bracket: Parkhurst chers." The students will attach postcards to each balloon and make predictions as to which direction the balloons will go. Persons finding the balloons will be asked to send the postcard back, stating where it landed. Sounds like fun.

It will be a fun time for the Grass Lake School as the PTO hosts its first annual Spring Festival 1987. Plans continue to be made, the date has been announced, and it will be here before we realize. It will be held Saturday, May 16, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Workers and "old-fashioned" clothing are still needed. Mark your calendar now because you know many events are planned for May. You won't want to miss the Fun Fair, Peddlers' Market, Chance Corner, or Stage Top Cafe. It's for a good cause. The PTO has used their fundraising efforts to be able to donate things like a copy machine, computer, video camera, stage curtains and more to their school. For more information, call (312)395-5380.

Don't forget to get your tickets for the "Good News Bears" clash with local stars from the Antioch Lions, Rescue Squad, Fire Dept. and ACHS alumni, before they're sold out. Tickets for the April 4 event at ACHS are available at Antioch financial institutions and from Antioch Lion club members.

children cooped up in the house isn't too good.

It was a good day for the Antioch Spring wrestlers as they took five places at the Deerfield Freestyle (anything goes) Tournament. The trick is to remain "on your feet."

Tim Tointon place fourth, winning over an opponent who placed fourth in the state. Great job, Tim! Brett DeRousse placed fifth, pinning Jerry Chapman of Round Lake, who was a 1987 sectional qualifier. Jason Gutke, wrestling in his first defaulted on his next match due to the injury. Dave Shepard also participated.

ACHS's Ted DeRousse coordinated the tournament ably assisted by Mat Maids Darlene Freitag, Mary Kate Hughes, Sherry Nowak, and Kim Anderson as well as Parents' Club members Earl Gutke and David and Carol Parkhurst.

Have you ever wanted to see a Broadway Show? Sure, we all have. On March 26 at 7 p.m., the fourth and fifth graders of Antioch Grade School will perform "A Broadway Tour." It's free! Come on out and enjoy the new sound system donated by the Antioch Grade School PTO!

If you happen to see a bunch of balloons floating by on March 27 around 10 a.m., you'll know the Antioch Grade School fifth grade balloon launch got off on schedule. The idea came from a story in their reading series, "The Wind Wat-

Teen Suicides Draw Anger

by GLORIA DAVIS

With much mellowness setting in with age, it's been a long time since I've been as angry as I am with this rash of teens who have been both successful and unsuccessful in attempts to take their own lives.

For those that have been lucky enough to fail in this cruel stupidity, and also those who are still contemplating this travesty, — stop, think and listen!

You are not improving your lot! You are not going to a better place! If you are not religious you just face nothing, blackness, fine!

If you are religious, you face death having committed a murder, your own, and you have probably killed your loved ones in spirit.

mitting suicide are a sure sign of a need for help. The only real cure for any problems, big or small, is to face them and deal with them. If one cannot do that alone, ask for help, first from those who love you and then, if the need remains, get aid from a professional.

These kids should move away from the boob tube long enough to take a look at the real world and realize that all the cliches are true, no one promised anyone a rose garden and life is what you make it. It can be wonderful! It's all up to one person, you!

All problems are not solved before the final commercial. If you don't like what you're watching, you can't just turn to another show because the knob you're twisting will blow the picture tube of life for good.

When I Think About It

Religion teaches us that nothing is as bad as the life after death to be faced by those who die in sin.

There lives not the caring parent who deserves the hell that you bequeath them with this deed.

Anyone's death leaves a gaping hole in the lives of their loved ones, but when deaths are senselessly brought about by the people themselves, those left behind can only fill that hole with blame and guilt — "Why didn't I see what was happening? — Maybe I could have done something!"

In the case of the grieving parents, better kill them than yourself, their undeserved suffering will be less and then the state can do that cowardly job for you.

Maybe I should not have said the above because some dumb kid might read those words and decide to emulate them, and then the result can be laid at my door and not their's. Phooey! No movie, no bunch of words can make anyone do anything they wouldn't do anyway, place the blame where it really belongs, on the doer of the deed.

This kind of nonsense is comparable to an alcoholic blaming his wife, his job or the fact that the sun rises every day for his drinking, when in reality a person with this sickness will take any excuse at hand to hit the bottle, even creating reasons when there are none.

Know that any serious thoughts of com-

Though it may not seem so now, the bad things in life are more than balanced by the good ones, past and future. Stop bellyaching long enough to count your blessings and your possibilities.

People have been facing adversity since time began and I still believe that God only sends us what we can individually handle.

Everyone has problems. What makes you think you are any better than anyone else? Why shouldn't you have to cope like all the rest of us? If misery loves company, you can have plenty of that, just communicate.

Everyday, people all over the world face loneliness, injustice, the misery of war, dire things you have not even imagined in your deepest depression, and they fight to live.

If this seems like a dramatic way to exit, remember life will go on, only those who love you will be crushed. I can't believe you hate them that much!

For the rest of the world, today's suicide is yesterday's news, used only to wrap the garbage. What will you have accomplished? This is one grandstand play that has no retakes.

You owe the ones who love you one thing, the effort to do your personal best.

As Friedrich Nietzsche said, "He who has a WHY to live, can bear almost any HOW."

The WHY for everyone is LOVE, if not human love, God's love. Your life does not belong to you, it belongs to him.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Antioch is the kind of town where, if one keeps their eyes and ears open, more local news and gossip can be picked up at one of our many restaurants, than can be found in the local newspaper.

This street talk, which can concern everything from area politics, to business news, to who just moved into town or who is going to jail and who just got out, for the most part turns out to be pretty factual, even though those "in the know" won't let their names be tacked to it so it can be printed as coming from "a reliable source."

The latest bit of "gossip" has a local official having a financial interest in property that lies in the new TIF Dist.

Since old Annie Mae is always interested in seeing where her tax monies are going, she did a little checking to see if she saw any familiar names on the list of owners of the TIF Dist. property and drew a blank, but found that several of the pieces of property are being held in land trusts.

So I hustled off to see a knowledgeable friend who told me that Illinois is one of the few states left where land trusts are legal. He added that I didn't have a ghost of a chance at finding out the names involved in these trusts.

So maybe I'll never know if there is any kind of conflict of interest going on in what I really consider to be a boon to the downtown Antioch business district.

Believe it or not, Annie Mae is probably one of Antioch's most avid music lovers. I never miss a musical at the Pallette, Masque and Lyre Theater and I just love those concerts at the high school. The one that the jazz ensemble did last weekend had me humming all the way home.

Even though the songs sung by the barber shop quartet reminded me of my girlhood days, it was "ROCK In the U.S.A." that really set my toes to tapping.

Speaking of music, I see where Allendale is having a benefit outing to see "Beehive" in Chicago. This is the New York hit that features great music from the '50s, '60s and '70s. I got my ticket yesterday. Old Annie Mae can still do a mean twist.

Pace Begins Study Of Lift-Equipped Buses

A one-year demonstration project of Lake County's fully accessible fixed-route bus line will officially kick off at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, April 1, at the Illinois Dept. of Rehabilitation's Waukegan office.

Operated by Pace, the suburban bus service, the pilot project involves 25 lift-equipped buses serving about 20 Lake County communities. DORS director Susan Suter and assistant director Jim DeJong will introduce Jane Hunter, who began on Feb. 19 as Transportation Aid Coordinator. Hunter's job is to educate area citizens on proper use of the lifts.

The Pace buses, which are accessible to wheelchair users and people with physical disabilities, will be demonstrated at the event. The project became fully operational in February, making it the first fully accessible bus system in the Chicago area and only the second in the state. Wednesday's event marks the beginning of a one-year study to monitor ridership, operation costs and other factors involved in a fixed-route transportation system.

If the Pace project proves successful, similar projects may be started in other locations in Illinois, according to Pace operations manager Dick Brazda.

Big Brothers And Sisters Bowl For Kids' Sake

by MARK BENNO

Following upon the heels of National Big Brothers/Big Sisters Appreciation Week, which has held at the end of February, was the Bowl-For-Kids-Sake fundraiser held at Brunswick Lakehurst Bowl in Waukegan. And the joy and happiness of being together was reflected in the eyes of all participants.

The fundraiser featured a variety of special prizes and celebrities, including Chicago Bears player Brian Cabral and Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson. The true focus of attention, however, was found among the children and adults who gathered together on Sunday, March 22, to enjoy bowling and each other's company.

It is estimated nationally that there are 12 million youngsters growing up in a one-parent household. Events like Bowl-For-Kids-Sake are intended by the Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County to both highlight and celebrate this organization which brings together adults who often no longer have a young child in their life, and children who are seeking guidance and attention.

Big Brothers and Big Sisters are matched with the children on the basis of common interest and personalities. Volunteers spend three to five hours a week with a child, at least for a year. These friendships often continue for many years.

Saralynn Reedy of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County said, "most volunteers report the rewards more than equal their contribution to a child's happiness and advancement."

To volunteer for this successful and rewarding program, call Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County at (312) 360-0770.

Victory's Adult Day Care Offers Help For Families

Betsy and Roy are playing checkers at a corner table. Nearby, Betty quietly rocks and is doing embroidery. At the opposite end of the room, two figures bend over pieces of a puzzle, helter-skelter, on the square table in front of them. The room is large, warm and filled with the small sounds of people busily engaged.

Sound like a happy, content family at home? The happy family is correct, but the warm caring atmosphere is at Victory Adult Day Care.

Victory's Day Care offers friendship, rehabilitation and socialization, along with independence. Its participants include adults who are physically disabled, socially isolated, mentally confused or in some way limited in functioning independently.

As our elderly population increases, more families are faced with the role of "caregiving." Families have difficulty understanding the problems, needs and changes that occur in their lives. Taking care of an "older adult" often comes at a time when adult children have their own personal needs and demands from their family.

The goal and aim at Victory is to provide an opportunity for an older adult to remain in the home and community longer while reducing the physical and emotional stress that is placed on the family. Anger and hostility often builds between family members, especially to the main "caregiver." They can become mentally and physically drained.

Eileen brings her husband, Tom, to day care three days a week. She said, "Day care saved my sanity, I'm more relaxed." Tom has had several strokes and is in a wheelchair. Day care allows Eileen to go shopping, go out for breakfast or lunch with friends, and have time just for herself. Day care also allows a diversion for Tom, who says he loves to come and looks forward to it.

For more information about enrolling an individual in day care, call (312)356-5908. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. It is located at 121 E. Grand Ave., Lake Villa.

Take Bite Out Of Dental Fees

An affordable denture program for Illinois Senior Citizens participating in the Dept. of Revenue's Circuit Breaker program was announced today by the Illinois Retired Teachers Assn. Foundation.

"The Foundation has been increasingly concerned about older persons living on low or fixed incomes who are unable to afford dentures at regular fees charged by some dentists," Vic Wirth, executive director of IRTA said. "This program will give qualified Senior Citizens the opportunity to receive quality denture care from trained health care professionals at affordable prices."

To qualify for the program a person must be participating in the Dept. of Revenue's Circuit Breaker Program, have an annual household income of less than $14,000, be 65 years of age or older and not be eligible for Public Aid or private dental insurance. For referral, call (217)523-8495 or write to IRTA Denture Referral Service, 312 S. 4th St., Springfield, 62701.

The fee per standard individually constructed full upper or lower denture will be $225. Other patient charges include $10 for an initial exam and $20 for all x-rays. According to Wirth, more than 700 dentists have volunteered to participate in the program.

"The Illinois Retired Teachers Assn. Foundation has recognized the need to provide affordable denture referral services not only to retired teachers, but to any qualified senior citizen in Illinois," Wirth said. "Dentists who have agreed to join the program have done so because they, too, are concerned about denture needs of the elderly and the effect of inflation on fixed incomes."

The Illinois Retired Teachers Assn. Foundation is a not-for-profit corporation chartered under Illinois law for charitable and educational purposes.

Crane Raps Medicare Proposal

Illinois Congressman Philip M. Crane (R-Mt. Prospect), in testimony before the House Health Subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee charged it is not right to increase the income taxes of the elderly as a means of providing catastrophic illness coverage. Such a proposal is before the Ways and Means Committee, on which Crane serves as fourth-ranking Republican member.

"If signed into law," he declared, "this bill would result in higher income taxes ranging from $265 to $584 a year for a great many of those subscribing to Medicare Part B coverage."

Crane also opposes the catastrophic illness legislation proposed by Secretary of Health and Human Services, Dr. Otis Bowen. He noted that neither plan covers the very high cost of nursing home care.

In place of the legislation he calls ill-conceived, Congressman Crane calls for passage of the bill he introduced creating medical IRA's, which would include coverage providing for nursing home care.

"There is an imperative need for long term care, and this is provided in my bill," Congressman Crane declared.

He also noted his legislation guarantees the solvency of the entire Medicare program which, it has been reported, will become insolvent in the 1990's.

Implement Community Awards

Individuals, organizations or communities which contribute to local beautification efforts may be eligible for a special award from Illinois Clean and Beautiful, Jay R. Hedges, Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCAA) Director, said.

The awards, the first of their kind offered by Illinois Clean and Beautiful, will inaugurate what is expected to become an annual awards program for those who contribute to efforts to beautify their communities.

"Beautification projects make a community a pleasant place to live," Hedges said. "They also play an important role in our efforts to attract and keep business. A clean, attractive community shows its pride—and that's important to companies searching for a potential location."

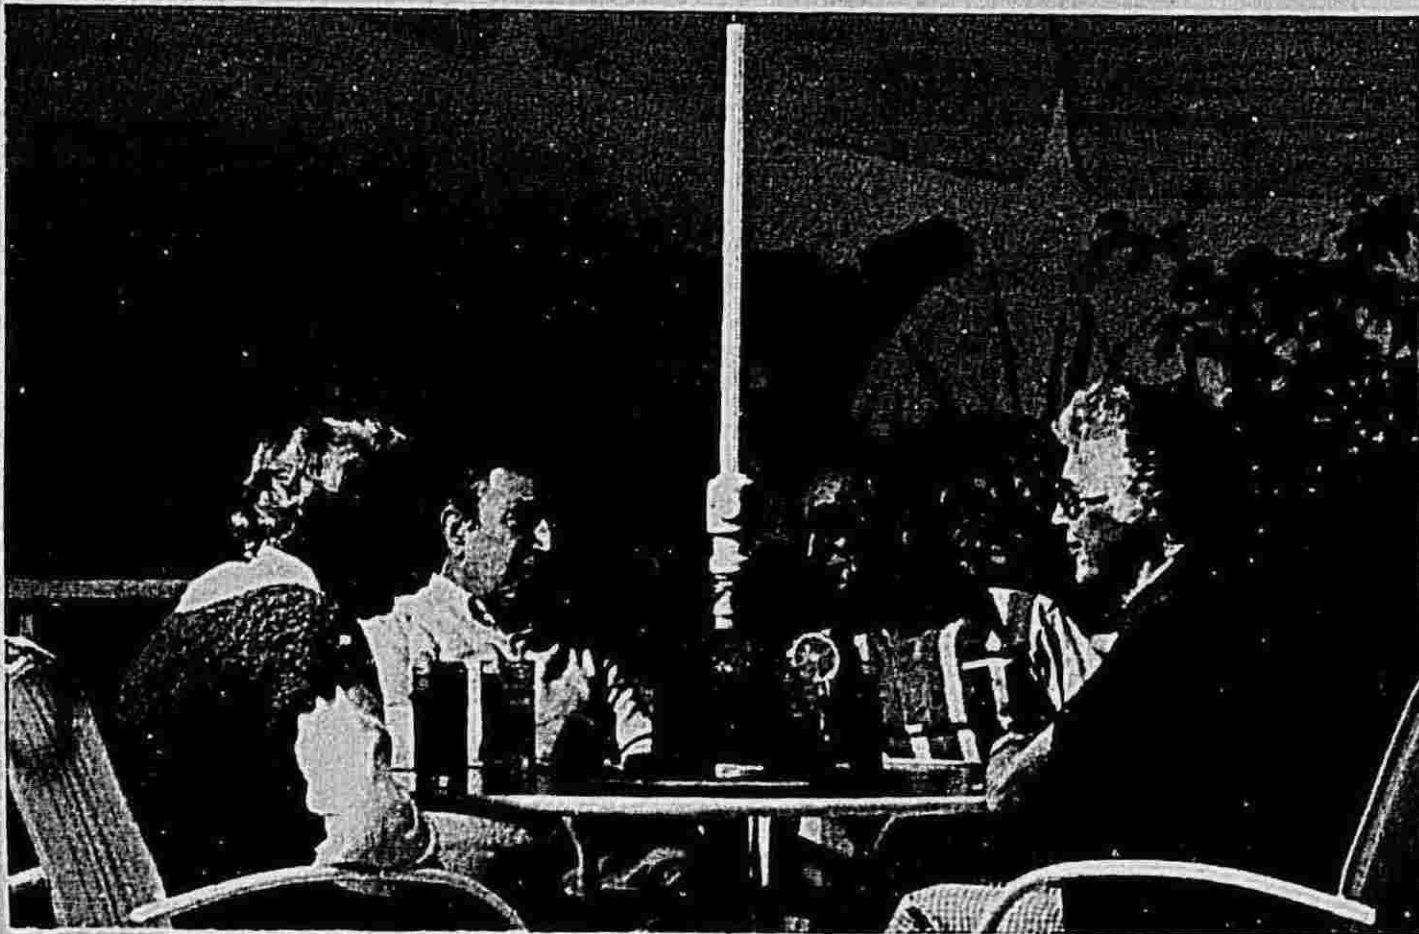

Applications may be obtained by writing the Illinois Clean and Beautiful Program, Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs, 620 E. Adams, 5th Floor, Springfield, 62701, or phone (217)785-6142.

Winners will be announced during Keep America Beautiful Week April 26 through May 2.

Don't Jump For Pitch To Buy TV Insurance

by GARY S. MEYERS

Attention seniors: When a well-known older television personality comes on the TV screen to offer you mail-order life insurance, don't be so sure that it's the only kind you can get—or that it's the best kind.

"The policies offered on television are not bad," said Bruce Kantor, a trustee of the National Assn. of Life Underwriters, a Washington, D.C.-based trade group. "But they're also not the only game in town. Unless you are recovering from a life-threatening illness or from surgery, you should be able to get a better policy."

The pitch is always the same, regardless of the company making the offer: You can get low-cost insurance with no medical exam and guaranteed acceptance.

The implication of the "no medical exam" pitch is that you'll get the same benefits as someone who does go through a physical. However, the trade-off is generally a lower benefit package.

The same is true of the "low monthly premiums" that the ads offer. If you are paying $5 a month, you won't get much coverage. Some policies do not even offer full benefits until two or three years after they are purchased.

"We're filling a gap in coverage that needed filling," said Bernard Dempsey, a spokesman for Continental American Life Insurance Co., which issues a mail-order insurance plan. "We make insurance available to people who don't have enough group insurance, and who don't want to go through the underwriting process."

By targeting a large audience through television, mail order insurance companies can attract a larger volume of purchasers and thereby keep premiums low, said Dempsey.

"While there are policies that offer better coverage on a dollar for dollar basis, on an absolute scale they do cost more, and they're not available to everyone," said Eugene Molenaar, area representative for the American Assn. of Retired Persons in Des Plaines. "For people who cannot afford more benefits or personal service, what is offered is adequate."

But often the only thing preventing older people from buying insurance form an agent is fear of dealing personally with the salesperson.

"One of the most abused segments of the market is over-65 Medicare recipients. Many don't understand Medicare completely, and they understand life and health insurance policies even less. This makes them wary of agents who try to sell them a policy," said Kantor.

But if fear of an agent is the only thing holding you back, consider calling someone you trust—a relative or friend who won't let you be intimidated—and asking him or her to sit down with you and the agent.

Also, ask around and see if you can find people who are satisfied with their insurance. Better still, find out if the beneficiary of a policy is satisfied with the service he or she received.

Take advantage of the standard "free look" period (usually 20 to 30 days) to examine the policy closely, away from the pressure of a salesperson looking over your shoulder.

"It's often a matter of personal preference," said Molenaar. "You can drive an economy car, or you can drive a Cadillac. How you get there is up to you."

Proposal Aims To Abate Abuse

A statewide program to prevent elder abuse, expanded services for Alzheimer's Disease victims and a continuation of one of the nation's largest in-home care programs for the elderly are priorities in Gov. James Thompson's budget request for the Dept. on Aging.

At $135.8 million, the department budget is three percent larger than last year's spending plan and includes a $93.2 million request in State General Revenue funds.

"Abuse of the elderly is a problem we don't like to hear about, but like child abuse, we know it's a real and tragic problem that needs to be squarely addressed," said the governor.

"Three years ago, the Dept. on Aging began a demonstration program to gain more information about elder abuse. From that effort, a coordinated Statewide response can serve not only the abused elderly, but also their abuser, who are most often family caregivers," he said.

FY '88 would be the first year of full implementation for the $1.2 million statewide program which would involve local groups and would call for a voluntary reporting system. The program also includes assessment, casework, follow-up and supportive services.

For the victims of Alzheimer's Disease and their families, Thompson said, "They will receive more attention, as more victims will be served through our adult day care programs and new pilot projects. In addition, senior companion demonstration programs will continue to employ low-income companions to assist the frail elderly, and several projects will continue to study the need for skilled home health care," he said.

The Governor's budget proposal includes $300,000 for the new Alzheimer's pilot project grants.

The Community Care program, operating since 1980, also will be a priority in the new fiscal year. With a request of $82.2 million in state funding, the program represents one of the largest of its kind in the nation, providing chore/housekeeping, homemaker, case management and adult day care to frail individuals who would otherwise be institutionalized.

"General Revenue Funds directed to the program, which serves 25,000 clients, are partially reimbursed with federal Medicaid funds that became available to Illinois in 1983. A portion of the Medicaid dollars that previously were available only for nursing home care now can be directed toward in-home services if they are more appropriate for the client," said Dept. on Aging director Janet Otwell.

The department's budget proposal also includes more than $42.7 million in federal Older American Act funds, which are distributed to the state's 13 Area Agencies on Aging. The agencies contract with local providers for meal and transportation programs, case management, information and referral and a range of other services offered through senior centers and local aging offices.

Otwell said more than 148,000 seniors participate in meal programs annually, and nearly 400,000 participate in other community-based services provided through federal Older Americans Act funding. Other programs provided by the Act include the Nursing Home Ombudsman Program, which works to improve the lives of older persons in nursing homes, and the Senior Community Service Employment Program, which provides part-time employment to low-income seniors throughout Illinois.

Without the additional revenues contained in the governor's budget, efforts to establish a statewide elder abuse intervention program would be dropped, services for Alzheimer victims and their families would be reduced, and state funding to enhance federal programs would be further reduced.

"The important care our older citizens receive this year can be continued next year with the budget proposal for Fiscal Year 1988. I encourage legislators to carefully consider any changes they feel have to be made in this crucial area of government and to seriously evaluate the ramifications of any spending changes they might suggest," the Governor said.

Illinois AARP Opposes Gasoline Tax Proposal

Illinois representatives of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) voiced their opposition to Gov. Thompson's call for hikes in the state gasoline tax and automobile license plate fee.

The increases, nine cents per gallon for gasoline and $16 for license plates, would give Illinois the highest gas tax in the U.S.

"It is unfair of Gov. Thompson to seek to increase these taxes when the state's road coffers are at their healthiest, and the monthly levels are at record highs," said Dale Long, a member of AARP's Illinois State Legislative Committee (SLC).

"Senior citizens in rural areas are almost totally dependent on their automobiles for transportation. Such a significant increase in gasoline costs would substantially cut back on their automobile usage," he said.

"It is an unjust burden to place on older state residents, many of whom get by on fixed incomes."

The SLC also expressed concern that public service vans operating out of senior citizens centers could not afford the additional taxes and would curtail service.

The SLC represents the needs and interests of AARP's more than 1.2 million Illinois members and older state residents before the legislature.

With more than 24 million members, AARP is the nation's largest organization of Americans 50 and older. It is a non-profit, non-partisan organization which offers a wide range of membership benefits, legislative representation at the federal and state levels.

Victory 'Passport' Program Reduces Medical Bill Woes

A new program which will free individuals over 65 years of age from having to pay bills for their hospitalization for medically necessary services is being offered by Victory Memorial Hospital.

Senior Passport members also can call on one of Victory's Senior Passport counselor to assist them in understanding and processing their healthcare paperwork, including insurance forms, physicians' bills and other healthcare forms.

To be eligible for Senior Passport membership, persons must be residents of Cook, DuPage, Kane, Kenosha, Lake, McHenry or Will Counties; 65 years of age or older; enrolled in Medicare Parts A and B; and covered by acceptable supplemental insurance.

For those who travel, Senior Passport is valid also at other hospitals outside a 100-mile radius of Victory. These bills are covered up to the maximum of Medicare covered days. This coverage extends to the first 120 days of travel, anywhere in the United States. All members need do is have the hospital send the bill to Victory.

Also covered are bills for charges for hospitalization incurred after Medicare Lifetime Reserve days are used up.

Not covered are hospital charges considered not medically necessary, such as cosmetic surgery, and Senior Passport does not cover outpatient or emergency room services.

According to Katharina Effinger, assistant vice president of finance, the feature of the program which is appreciated most by members is the service of the Senior Passport counselor. "Other sponsors of

Senior Passport report that members come in with shopping bags filled with bills and claims," said Effinger. "The bills are so confusing, people cannot figure out what they are entitled to. Some seniors simply throw up their hands and do not attempt to recover claims from Medicare and supplemental insurance companies."

"Health care bills are among the most complex matters facing seniors today," Effinger continued. "We will help them file these forms and help them wade through all their healthcare bills."

Victory Senior Passport

counselors will be available to make appointments with members between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Applications for Senior Passport may be obtained by calling Victory Hospital at (312)360-4222. There is a nominal $10 charge per household.

Survey Shows Need For Information

The health problems that senior citizens are most concerned about are cancer, diabetes, arthritis, vascular problems, headaches, eye and foot problems, anxiety, and the need to exercise.

Those are the results of a comprehensive survey conducted by the Robert R. McCormick Clinics of the University of Health Sciences-Chicago Medical School.

Sharon Weinstein, clinics administrator, called the results very helpful. "They (seniors) have numerous areas of real concern and are intensely aware of the pitfalls that affect the human body," she said.

Weinstein added that many seniors seem to feel that their health care needs are being ignored and that they don't always get straight answers to their questions.

"The average respondent listed four or five medical concerns and their attitude is the more information we can send them the better," she said. "As a result, we will gear our future planning to accommodate (seniors) because they represent a growing and vital segment of the market population in Lake County."

'Bruce Who?' Could Be President

by JOHN STEINKE
(Political Columnist)

The 1988 presidential contest promises some drastic differences from the past four elections. For the first time since 1968, no incumbent is running. For the first time in memory—since 1952, at least—the race in both parties is completely open. Neither party boasts a dominant potential leader with a solid lead at this stage.

If someone told you the next president of the United States could be Bruce Babbitt, would your response be "Bruce Who"? Well, you wouldn't be alone. Most Americans have never heard of Bruce Babbitt, Richard A.

Gephardt, Joe Biden or several other potential candidates priming themselves for the White House.

In fact, what Americans don't know about politics would fill a book. Americans' ignorance of candidates and issues probably is the most thoroughly documented tenet of voting research. It's the young voters who yawn the widest when the topic is politics. Some public opinion polls turn up startling results.

In 1984, for example, most voters aged 18 to 24 seemed bored by the presidential campaign. At the height of the presidential primary season, an ABC-TV poll found that nearly 80 percent of these younger voters couldn't identify a single Democratic presidential candidate, such as former vice president Walter Mondale or then Colorado Sen. Gary Hart. Voters aged 25 to 29 weren't much better.

Sometimes, of course, little-known candidates race ahead to victory. "Gary Who?" became Gary Hart when he defeated Mondale in the New Hampshire presidential primary. In a matter of two weeks Hart's face went on the cover of news magazines and onto television.

"Jimmy Who?" eventually became President Jimmy Carter. And "George

Who?" became Vice-President George Bush. Of course, both Carter and Bush were members of David Rockefeller's Trilateral Commission, which guaranteed them national media publicity.

By the way, for those who were't sure: Bruce Babbitt is the former Democratic governor of Arizona. Richard Gephardt is a Democratic representative from St. Louis, Mo. And Joe Biden is a Democratic Senator from Delaware. Both Babbitt and Gephardt have announced their candidacies for president. You can expect Babbitt to generate a positive media image. Presently, the former Arizona governor is a member of the Trilateral Commission.

TIN MEN (R-Buena Vista) Starring Richard Dreyfuss, Danny DeVito, Barbara Hershey. ★ ★ ★

By J.T. YURKO

"Tin Men" is a tough film to categorize. It has comic moments, but there's no way to gauge it on a laugh meter, so it isn't really a comedy. It isn't exactly nostalgic either, even though it is set in director Barry Levinson's hometown of Baltimore in 1963. As he did in his earlier film, "Diner," Levinson focuses on a group of men living on the brink of transition. But this is no Levinson version of "Radio Days." He is far too clinical and cynical.

"Tin Men" refers to aluminum-siding salesmen. It was a highly competitive industry, and some of the scams these salesmen used were extraordinarily creative and arguably illegal. Part con artists and part method actors, their selling techniques were occasionally masterpieces of applied psychology.

They worked afternoons and evenings, usually not more than four or five hours a day. If they were good, they could make a comfortable living, but many of them regularly lost their commissions at the race track or over a pool table. They wore flashy clothes and drove the largest Cadillacs available.

Richard Dreyfuss and Danny DeVito play two salesmen who meet when their respective Cadillacs bang into each other. They take their revenge in an escalating series of attacks until Dreyfuss seduces DeVito's wife, played by Barbara Hershey. But what should be the ultimate sting turns out differently than anyone foresees.

Here comes the transition part. Dreyfuss is wise enough to see the handwriting on the aluminum-sided wall. When the Maryland Home Improvement Commission begins to crack down on the scams, and many salesman lose their licenses, DeVito is unable to change with the times. But Dreyfuss looks at a newly imported Volkswagen Beetle and says, "You know, I could sell a million of those."

The era of the door-to-door salesman is gone — and with it went some very colorful characters. In their wake came mass-media sales pitches, much as fast-food chains replaced cozy diners. So maybe it's nostalgic, after all.

Ari Meyers readies herself for the big college decision

By Constance Pace

At age 17, Ari Meyers, who has been starring as Susan Saint James' daughter Emma McArdle on "Kate & Allie" since its debut, has quite a leg up on the usual high-school junior. Besides the hit series, she has been in five TV movies and one feature film. She also has traveled extensively throughout the world. But she has to face every junior's dilemma: the ordeal of applying to colleges and deciding which one to attend.

Ari Meyers

"I definitely am going to college," she says, "and exactly how acting is integrated into my life depends on which ones accept me. If a Harvard or Yale says yes, then I may have to give up the series. I really don't want to, though. Right now, I'd like to get into a good New York City college. If I can handle both acting and studying, then I'll keep on doing both."

Meyers has been in the business since the age of 5, when Ford modeling representatives spotted her in her school, and she launched that agency's children's division. And Meyers' mother, actress Taro Meyer, has always been very active in the New York entertainment world. She starred on Broadway in the last revival of "Zorba" and played seriocomic roles on the soaps "Another World" and "All My Children."

Meyers feels fortunate that most of her work — including a role as Dyan Cannon's daughter in the film "Author! Author!" and, of course, "Kate & Allie" — is done in New York City. That way she can remain close to her mother and friends. "I've been able to attend the same New York private school since I was 6," she says. Even with having to resort to occasional on-the-set tutoring, the very studious Meyers managed to get the kind of top grades college admissions officers are looking for.

"Most of my friends aren't in the business," Meyers says, "but Alison (Alison Smith, who plays Jane Curtin's daughter) is my real best friend." Even with her life consumed with work, school and friends, Meyers spends as much time as she can traveling, and the names of the far-flung places she has visited include London, Bali, Indonesia, Mexico, Japan and Switzerland. "Last summer, I went to scuba-diving camp in Aruba. It was the great- est," she enthuses.

The BOX SEAT

Tennis (and dollars) is the name of their game

By Marty Linehan

On Sunday, April 5, women tennis players are going to break the mold in the Ocean Spray Challenge of Champions at the Scope Arena in Norfolk, Va. Martina Navratilova and Billie Jean King will face Chris Evert Lloyd and Pam Shriver in a doubles match to end all doubles matches.

First of all, King will be making her first appearance against active tour players since she retired in 1984. A "breakway" format will be used with an escalating purse, whereby money is awarded for service breaks, and the team winning two of three sets won't be the winner. It's how much money they win that counts.

And that depends on how many serves they can break.

In a novel format, which will be televised by ABC at 2 p.m. (EST), a specified amount of money will be at stake in each game, to be earned only if the serve is broken. If the serve is held, the sum carries over to the next game and is added on to the stake.

The minimum stake for the first game is $2,500. If the teams go through the first three games without breaking service, the fourth game pays $10,000 for a service break. Should one team break serve in the fourth game, it collects the $10,000 and the stake goes back to $2,500 for game five.

To add to the pressure, the minimum stake for each set progresses. The stake for set two is $5,000, and set three comes to $7,500.

Should the first set go to 13 games, prize money will total $32,000. The same amount of games in the second set will run the stake to $65,000, and 13 games in the final set will bring it to $97,000. An additional $10,000 will be awarded to the winners of each set. That's not a bad payday, even for someone like Navratilova, who has won almost $12 million in her career.

(If you think this sounds anything like NBC's "Skin Game," in which four top golfers get richer by playing each other over a weekend, you can go stand in a corner with the ball boys.)

Ocean Spray will donate all the money generated from its Challenge of Champions to the Women's Sports Foundation, an organization established by Billie Jean King back in 1974.

The idea of the Women's Sports Foundation is to create a unified body to encourage and support participation of women in sports, and to further opportunities, facilities and training.

The organization can boast of top women athletes on its executive staff. After King, Olympic swimmer and TV personality Donna de Varona became the second president, followed by famed golfer Carol Mann as the third.

Abundant Cash, Products Keep Prices Down

Abundant supplies of cash and commodities are keeping prices and interest rates down. This is fueling a housing boom, as the U.S. economy continues its slow but steady growth.

Overall, the cost of living in the United States should increase by only 1.5 percent to two percent in 1987. And while pay raises in 1987 will be small, they still will be slightly higher than inflation. U.S. hourly workers "can look for pay hikes of two percent in most cases, with some industries getting three percent," said Alfred Candrilli, a lawyer at the national accounting firm of Lavenhol and Horwath, and one of the nation's leading compensation experts.

reduced taxes by lowering their prime rate by half a point, to 10 percent.

Economic Indicators:

-In February, housing starts reached the highest level since last April, rising 2.6 percent from January to an annualized 1.85 million units. Single-family units, up 5.6 percent, continue to lead the way, while multi-family unit starts fell 4.1 percent.

-Industrial production continued its steady rise, posting a modest gain for the sixth straight month. The index rose 0.5 percent in January and is up 1.4 percent from a year ago.

-Manufacturers' inventories grew by 0.5 percent in January but are down by 1.2 percent from a year ago.

-The Producer Price Index, a measure of the cost of wholesale goods as they move from the producer to retailer, was up a marginal 0.1 percent in February. This follows a 0.6 percent jump in January. Rises in energy prices were offset by lower food prices, especially for fresh produce, which was down 8.8 percent in February.

-Personal income in February rose by 0.9 percent, as consumers continue to gain buying power. Income is up 5.3 percent from a year ago.

-The $38.37 billion merchandise trade deficit for the fourth quarter of 1986 was the largest quarterly deficit ever recorded. However, the U.S. dollar's drop against the Japanese yen and the West German mark should help to slow the growth of the deficit, and may possibly bring some improvement.

-The Commerce Dept. revised the gross national product for the fourth quarter of 1986 down to 1.1 percent from 1.3 percent.

Interest Rates.

Yields on Treasury instruments slid slightly lower, but stayed well within the normal trading range of late. Corporate income tax revenues are now filling federal government coffers, temporarily easing the upward pressure on government borrowing rates.

Yields on certificates of deposit are up across the country, according to this week's Meyers Report survey of saving institutions. Yields for six-month CDs were higher at eight percent of the institutions surveyed, lower at two percent. Thirty-month certificates posted increases at six percent of the institutions, and were lower at three percent. Five percent of the institutions raised their yields on five-year CDs, while only one percent lowered yields.

Mortgages across the country averaged lower again this week, as 30-year fixed-rate mortgages slipped to 9.12 percent, from 9.15 percent. Twelve percent of the lenders surveyed lowered their rates, against four percent who increased rates.

Also dropping were 15-year mortgages, down to 8.85 percent from 8.89 percent. Adjustable mortgages, however, were up to 7.69 percent from 7.67 percent last week.

Auto loans were down again this week, averaging 10.63 percent nationwide for a new-car loan, vs. 10.66 percent last week. The average interest on a 36-month loan was down to 10.50 percent, from 10.51 percent. Four percent of the lenders lowered their 48-month loan rates and none raised their rates.

Home improvement loans around the country were up to 12.37 percent from 12.35 percent last week. Of the lenders surveyed, two percent raised their rates and four percent lowered their rates.

The stock market is continuing to set records as investors speculate on the prospects of low inflation coupled with lower interest rates. Additional market support is coming from foreign investors and from small U.S. investors buying into mutual funds in their search for better returns than those offered by savings certificates.

Farm products, like everything else, are abundant, with no sharp price rises in sight—good news for those pushing shopping carts, but not so good for farmers.

Suppliers of industrial metals to manufacturers are anticipating stable or lower prices for the balance of 1987. Recent jumps in the price of aluminum were countered with declines over the past few weeks.

Western industrial nations are continuing their efforts to stimulate their economies. British bankers responded on March 18, to

CLC's Hanson Makes Pitch For Successful Campaign

by JOHN PHELPS
Spring is almost upon us, and it is time to preview the college of Lake County Lancers baseball team.

Head coach Gene Hanson, who is returning to the helm after four years off, has his troops ready to go. Hanson coached the team from 1969-1983, compiling an outstanding 396-150 record. This season, Hanson, although having been away from the sport a few years and not knowing the level of junior college baseball that faces him, is excited optimistic.

"Our major strength is going to be pitching. We have seven pretty good starters on our team right now. They all have experience and credentials," Hanson said.

The team has 22 members, four of which Hanson has seen in playing conditions. "Right now we're working out the final kinks," Hanson said.

The Lancers have a lot of depth this season, with several returning lettermen and a fine crop of freshman.

Returning players and their positions are pitchers Craig Wallace, a Carmel grad who also plays outfield, Wauconda product Brad Frecking, and Antioch products Vince Gawerecki and Jim Kauth. Gerard Giustino will be starting at third base, Frank Diana at second, Wauconda grad Jeff Potts at third and Mike Foot as catcher. Roger Knutel is also a returner and will be backing up Giustino at third. Jim Armstrong brings a strong bat and will back up Potts while former Wauconda Bulldog Ed Yoho will be Foote's backup behind the plate.

Newcomers to the Lancer lineup are pitchers Scott Padilla, Roy Salinas, Ron Ladin, John Stair and former Round Lake Panther Brett Ligenza.

Wauconda places a graduate in the infield as Norm Niemo will be vying for a shortstop starting berth with Zion grad Bill Fairbanks. Scott Hanson will be the designated hitter and play third base.

Offensively, the team is expected to score runs, with five to six solid hitters in the lineup. Power hitters include Giustino, Niemo and Salinas while Potts, Foote, Hanson, Diana and Lemm should add finesse in making solid and consistent contact, according to Hanson.

"Our pitching is the big plus. Without pitching, a team is lucky to win 50 percent of its games," Hanson said.

The Lancers appear to have a few weaknesses, as one of the things plaguing them will be team speed.

"We have two to three runners who run well. So to make up for it, we are going to have to be alert and smart on the bases," Hanson said.

Another possible flaw is team defense. Hanson hopes he has prepared the players mentally and physically and eliminating most mental mistakes such as throwing to the wrong base, not hitting the cut-off man and using over all good judgment.

The team is preparing for its spring tour in Florida. CLC will have a hearty schedule, playing 15 games in one week. Hanson hopes the schedule will serve as a big testing period, and will determine the starting lineup when the team returns home April 3.

"We have the potential to be a very strong ballclub. The depth is here and our pitching looks strong," Giustino said.

Time To File Away Season Reach For Those Golf Clubs

What started in Mundelein ended in Rockford.

Yes, the 1986-87 Lakeland basketball season is history. The desk is a little neater now that the folder called "Winter Sports, 86-87" is now officially collecting dust. All told, the season featured some 61 basketball games - both boys and girls teams from Round Lake to Warren with stops in DeKalb and Hampshire.

As Al McGuire once said, "it's time to get out the golf clubs".

Actually, the first full season in Lake County was not all negative.

Area teams, though, overall struggled. Four teams - Grant, Carmel, Warren and Round Lake finished above the break-even point. For the rest, the season was one of disappointment to one degree or another.

The post-season did not break my nine-year string of witnessing teams being eliminated before the "Elite Eight". There were no magic carpet rides as Carmel had last year to the Sweet Sixteen. In fact, no area team made it to the final 32. The Corsairs and Grant won regionals, but were soundly beaten in the first round of sectionals.

In girls play, Warren won its first regional ever, but fell to eventual Elite Eight Cary-Grove in sectional action. Antioch beat up on Round Lake and Grant in regional play, but lost to Libertyville for the third time.

Nobody asked, but here's a brief, summary of each boys team and outlook for next season:

Grant (24-4): Ah, now the real challenge comes for coach Tom Maple. The days of Kiesgan, Ron Richford, Mike Kazlauskis and Mike McDonald are now over and the Bulldogs will have to rebuild. But don't be surprised if Maple, who has done this sort of thing before, rebuilds to contention again.

Carmel (18-10): The Corsairs' outlook looks bright, led by the return of two inside players, Rob Graham and Scott Slahoviak. The key for coach Frank Belmont & Co. will be to see who will fill the other three positions.

Warren (18-8): The Blue Devils will be aiming to replace center Brian Jarrell, who all too often was called to do too much of the scoring. All-North Suburban Conference guard Derek Shelton returns, as does forwards Matt Lingenfelter, Brian Sitz and Jim Siwek. How those forwards work over the summer could go a long way in determining the success of the 1987-88 Blue Devils.

Round Lake (16-11): Following a double overtime loss to Grant in the regional title game, coach Bob Ward said his juniors learned a lot in the post-season. That will be a plus for the Panthers, who will miss the services of Jim Bills, Bob Akers, Brian Richardson and Frank Russell all return, and the Panthers could replace Grant as top dog in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Mundelein (10-16): Internal team problems and lack of height kept the Mustangs from reaching their full potential last season. Coach Dennis Kessel can look forward to next year though, if for no other reason than all-NSC guard J. T. Mathwig returns to lead the offense.

OVERTIME

By Steve Peterson

Johnsburg (8-16): Hopefully, stability will return to the program when coach Jeff Lewiston conducts his next practice in November. That would mark the first time in three years that a JHS mentor has returned for his sophomore season. A competitive sophomore team coupled with returning center John Olson and forward Chris Diedrich should make the Skyhawks an improved club.

Grayslake (8-16): The Rams suffered through a frustrating campaign, winning the Johnsburg tourney and four of their first five. But Greg Groth's team could not buy a break the rest of the way as discipline problems and injuries took their toll. Pete LuPori, Ed Schad and Timm West anchor returnees in November.

Antioch (6-20): If one wants to talk about falling from grace, talk to Antioch coach Don Zeman. Last year the Sequoias were factors in the NSC and won a regional. This year, they fell to 6-20 largely due to lack of height and a bad start. Zeman has hope for next season, though, as Scott Frasch, Paul Anderson and Scott Gooch all return.

Wauconda (1-23): If there is a Stick-It-Out Award for this past season, it has to go to Wauconda coach Chuck Neary. Neary suffered through another one-win season, again beating Cary-Grove. Pat Schaller's play made for a bright light in the 24 game fiasco, but the Bulldogs will have to replace him next year.

An electric ray has special muscles in its body that can give off shocks of up to 200 volts, Ranger Rick magazine reports. That's almost twice the power of the electric current in your home.

Sherling Wins Honors

Round Lake's Karin Sherling, a junior at Hemline University earned all-American honors at the 1987 National Collegiate Gymnastics Assn. championships in Bryn Mawr, PA.

Sherling tied with a teammate for fourth in the vault 17.75 points. Coach Mary Jane Olsen's gymnastics finished fourth in the team totals.

Sherling is the daughter of Mr. Paul Sherling of Round Lake.

CLC Netters Hope '86 Wins Continue Through Season

The 1987 College of Lake County Lancers men's tennis team is in preparation to repeat the fine showing of a year ago.

Last year, the team set seven individual records in addition to breaking three team records. Highlights of a year ago include the Skyway Conference championship (6-0); placing second in the Region IV tournament with 16 points and gaining a 17th place finish in the National Junior College Athletic Assn. tourney, defeating 25 of 44 teams in the field.

Head coach Lance Laverty, in his ninth season, will be building his team around three returning lettermen: Chris Kendra, Bob Bramhall and Mark Nordby. Each player has set individual CLC performance records. These include 8-0 in No. 6 singles, 8-2 in No. 5 singles and 13-1 in No. 4 singles, respectively.

"I'm pretty optimistic," says Laverty, who is expecting a great turnout of players this year. Laverty predicts that the team, although not as strong as last year, will possess greater depth, which, in turn, will enable them to score more points. Approximately 80 percent of the team has experience at the high school varsity level of competition, while around 50 percent have played year-round in Chicagoland-area indoor tennis clubs.

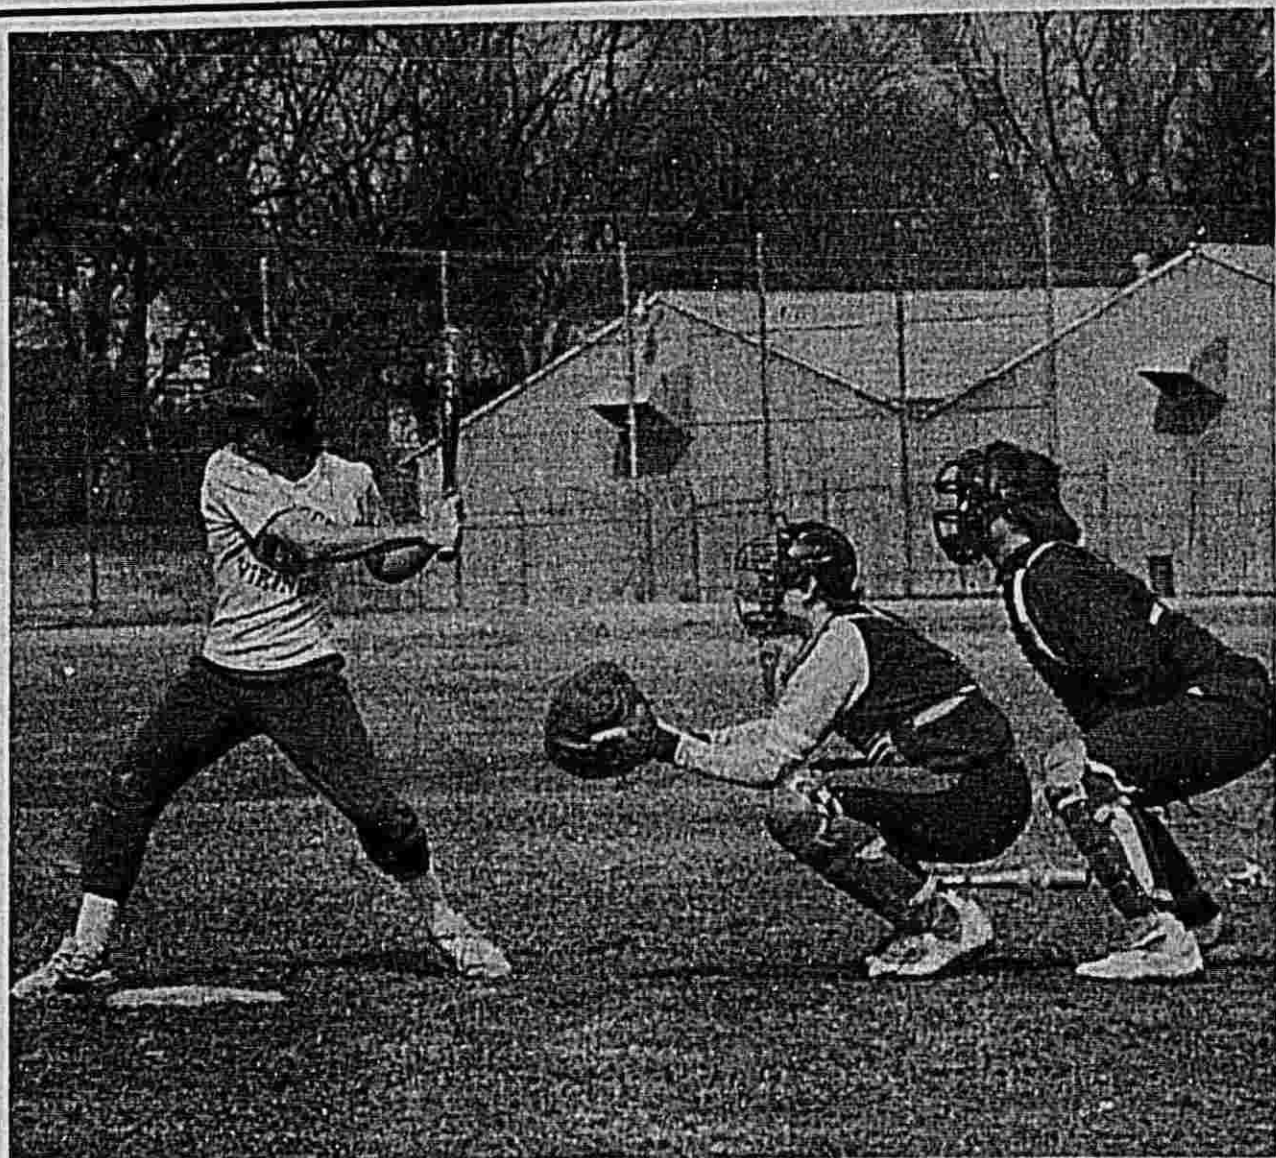

CLC SPORTS NOTEBOOK

By John Phelps

The Lancers have always been competitive, ranking among the top in the Skyway Conference and Region IV. In maintaining their level of play, the team has been conditioning indoors on three makeshift courts in CLC's Grayslake gym for the past month.

"If everyone is eligible, both mentally and physically, we have the potential to do as well as last year," Laverty said.

For anyone still interested in joining, practice is held outdoors behind the college's athletic department building. Laverty may be reached at the at (312) 223-3600. Or, call Laverty at home at (312) 249-1530.

WTHS Softball Team Ready For Brand New Season

When Warren Twp. High School's girls basketball team ended its season on Feb. 17, there were some voices which said that was too soon.

Coach Chris Woodard and the Warren High softball team did not think so.

"Some people complained that the basketball season was too compact. But it helped to give the players a month off. It made them eager and that helped," Woodard said.

Although the Blue Devils, like most other Warren squads, can only use the field house four of five days a week, Woodard said she likes the progress of her contingent so far. The team has been helped through the cooperation of Gurnee Dist. 56, which has let the team use the gyms at Spaulding and Gurnee Grade Schools.

Woodard said there is a lot of competition to break the starting lineup.

Warren returns seven letterwinners from last year's lineup, including all-North Suburban Conference catcher Jenni Marker.

"Pitching and catching are the center of the game and having good leadership at catcher is so important," Woodard said of Marker, a junior.

Another returning junior is Terri Ingalls, a shortstop who will help anchor the left side of the infield.

"Terri has come a long way from someone with a lot of potential to someone who is a very solid shortstop," Woodard said.

Other juniors who saw action on the varsity last year are third baseman Teri Huntington and third baseman-outfielder Wendy Kline.

Other juniors vying for playing time are third baseman-outfielder Jennifer Wilmot, second baseman Kathy Tomasiewicz and outfielders Becky Leeper and Jackie Valentine.

Six seniors provide experience, with two earning all-league honors last spring.

Dawn Bendry returns at first base while Bryn Doherty will be roaming the outfield again for Warren.

"The big key last year was when we moved Dawn from the outfield to first. It was a difference of night and day as far as leadership is concerned. Doherty is so fast we have to put her in center field," the coach said.

Tiffany Holmes and Katie Schmits also return to the outfield.

Offer Tryouts

Grayslake Mohawk baseball team will be conducting tryouts for new players March 28.

The tryouts will be held at Woodview School in Grayslake.

For more information, call manager Tom Hunt at (312) 223-1619 or John Rodriguez at (312) 546-1340.

Panther Weightlifters First

Round Lake Senior High School proved to have the top weightlifters at the Johnsbury Powerweightlifting Invitational.

Rob Rommel, Round Lake strength coach, said he was pleased with the team's finish.

"Our athletes did a fantastic job. Even though we had three fewer participants than last year, we increased our average weight by almost 10 percent," Rommel said.

Placing first were Carrie Jonus, Chuck Banker, John Boucette, Thad Edwards, Doug Karszewski and Steve Slager.

Placing second were Gina Augustine, Nate Barnett, Joe Belcher and Tony Salano.

Denise Kraly, Mike Fitzi, Shawn Schneider and Chuck Swieton. Placing fourth was Paul Willen. Bill Thomas and Larry West were fifth. Tom McGinley, Jeff Tymms and Les Wiltfong participated.

Final team scores were: Round Lake 68 points, McHenry 24, Carmel and Antioch 20, Lake Zurich eight, Hampshire and Crystal Lake Central seven, Marian Central five and Richmond-Burton had three points.

The Panthers set five tournament records en route to winning the title. Doucette set records in the dead lift (420 pounds) and in the three-lift total (490 pounds). Doug Karszewski set a record in the dead lift (340 pounds) and Shawn Schneider set a record in the bench press (330 pounds).

Mundelein's Lendvay Hopes Softball Success Continues

A Mundelein resident is hoping to make big contributions this spring for the Eastern Illinois University softball team.

Angel Lendvay, a junior right fielder, is a returning All-American for the Panthers. Fellow All-America candidate Zam Mogill from Streator, a pitcher, also returns.

"We won 30 games with this group as freshmen and sophomores. I think we'll win 40 games this year with them as juniors and seniors. This team is exceptional in all categories and we'll have opportunities to show it off against a tough schedule," EIU coach Janet Marquis said.

EIU will meet three teams ranked in the pre-season top 20 - No. 6 Northwestern, No. 16 Illinois State and No. 18 Florida as well as Indiana, which was third at the College World Series a year ago. Northwestern has played in the last three series.

Eastern, 30-15-1 last season and 13-5 in the Gateway Conference in its first year under Marquis, has been ranked seventh in the pre-season midwest region poll which lists six teams from that league.

"I think we play in one of the toughest conferences in the nation. But since our conference champion does not get an automatic berth in the NCAA tournament, the team knows it has to be ranked among the top three or four teams in the region after our conference tournament. That's our goal and we're going after that," Marquis said.

Mundelein product Lendvay will be the anchor for the young but talented outfield. "Angel loves to play defense. I think if you would ask her if she would like to hit or play defense, she would tell you defense. Nothing is going to drop in right field if she has anything to do with it. She has a reputation in the conference that no matter how deep she is, no one runs on Angel Lendvay," Marquis said.

Last season, Lendvay has had the third highest batting average on the team at .282 in 45 games. She had 10 triples and 16 runs-batted-in and 11 walks. Lendvay had a .934 fielding average.

Pardon Me Boys, Is That The Chattanooga Choo-Choo?

Choo Choo Town is the name of roadside boards leading to Chattanooga, Tenn. The Chattanooga Choo Choo song is probably better known to out-of-staters than anything else, including "See Rock City" signs, now switching from barn roofs to bird houses.

The city, which hosts three major interstate, I-75, 59 and 24, is labelled, "The Scenic Center of the South." Steeped in Civil War history, a view of Moccasin Bend in the Tennessee River, from the heights of Point Park, presents an overview of intense military action, so important to the war's outcome.

Our destination was the 33-acre Chattanooga Choo-Choo complex and its three Hilton Hotel units. Back in 1880, the first passenger train connecting north and south was established between Cincinnati and Chattanooga. A reporter labeled it the Chattanooga Choo-Choo and the name lived for over a hundred years. Choo-Choo town is best identified by the terminal station building that was destination at "Track 29." Now on the National Register for Historic Preservation, up to 1,300 guests may be seated under and near its reported "world's highest free standing dome" structure. Displaying its original Victorian design that won architectural awards, it is known as the Grand Dome Cafe. It again serves as the station's main gate and features an elegant family dining facility. Three other restaurants are within walking distance. The Trolley Cafe is casual and the single breakfast location on a year 'round basis. The Station House is a fun spot with waiters who entertain. Music and dancing accompany an evening featuring ribs, steaks and seafood. The Palm Terrace is a noon and evening dining area adjacent to the Grand Dome, but casual in food and dress.

Sleeping aboard a choo-choo sized car, furnished in brass bedposted king-size beds, is always popular for special occasions, such as weddings and anniversaries. Modern tubs, showers and TV seem remote from late vintage furnishings. Room service is available in these historical slumber cars.

An outstanding model railway display attracts some 12,000 annual viewers. Model trains run as much as 12 miles per day over the complex track layout. It is the 15th year for this $1 million, mini railroad installation.

Chattanooga's earliest history originated with the American Indian. The name is taken from the Creek Indian language, and is symbolic of the many pleasantries the area offers. Chattanooga was the final capitol of the Cherokee Indian Nation, prior to the "Trail of Tears" infamy, described by many as a blot on our nation's history. That terrible trail began near Chattanooga and ended in Oklahoma. Thousands died on this long, forced march. The Cherokees devised the only known written language in American Indian culture. Its originator, Sequoyah, was paid $500 for his services. Later he was honored by being the namesake for national parks, caverns, nuclear plants, statues and the famous giant Sequoia tree of California.

Details of Chattanooga attractions may be obtained from the Tourism Office, (800) 322-3344.

Trolley Rolls Again At Fox River

National Tourism Week, to be held May 17-23, will kick off in northern Kane County and the Elgin area with the opening of the Fox River Trolley Line and Museum. This collection of historic railway cars includes the oldest surviving interurban car in America.

"Even though the electric trolley car is a nearly extinct form of transportation, visitors and tourists to South Elgin can relive this aspect of American history on the Fox River Line," says Elgin Area Convention and Visitors Bureau Director Diane Ramsay. "It's fun and a real learning experience."

Passengers can enjoy a three-mile round trip on vintage trolley cars along the scenic Fox River. At the terminal, vintage railway cars are on display and some are open for inspection.

The museum, located on Rte. 31 in South Elgin, was established in 1961 by electric railway enthusiasts who wished to preserve some of the equipment from the vanishing trolley area. Proceeds of fares and gift shop sales are dedicated to the maintenance, operation and growth of the museum.

The Fox River Line opens Sunday, May 17, until the end of October, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Line remains open on Saturdays from July through Labor Day from 1 to 5 p.m.

Imagine a lawn that repels weeds, resists disease, dislikes fertilizer, stays green late in the season--and best of all--barely grows! According to International Wildlife magazine, a Canadian geneticist says he has produced 35 lines of such a miracle grass from 17 alpine species. The Canadian government is already using the slow-growing grasses along highways, but it will be another four years or so before they're available commercially.

Pace Unveils Plan For Bussing The Disabled

A plan calling for improved transportation for the disabled in suburban Chicago has been proposed by Pace, the Chicago-area suburban bus service, announced Pace chairman, Florence Boone.

Key points of the plan include:
—Installing lifts on all buses in the Aurora, Joliet and Elgin areas, if a test program currently under way in northern Lake County using lift-equipped buses proves successful.

—Establishing long-range lift-equipped dial-a-ride service in suburban Cook and DuPage Counties, using private contractors to provide the specialized service.

—Improving existing dial-a-ride services throughout the six-county suburban area.

Estimated annual operating cost of the plan is approximately $1.1 million.

The proposed plan would bring Pace into compliance with new federal regulations that set standards on transportation for the disabled for all transit agencies that receive federal funding.

"This plan calls for service that will meet the needs of those persons who cannot ride the bus service presently operating," Boone said.

She further stated that Pace operates on a tight financial budget and implementation of the service will depend on the amount of funding available from the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA).

Pace is seeking public comment on the plan. Copies may be obtained by writing: Pace, 550 W. Algonquin Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60005; or by calling (312) 364-Pace, Ext. 4999.

In addition, copies and audio cassettes of the plan will be available for the blind and physically handicapped at local suburban public libraries.

The deadline for submitting comments regarding the plan to Pace is May 3. On April 2 and 3, Pace will hold public hearing on the plan.

Pace is funded by the RTA.

Matijevich Sponsors Bills To Crack Down On Repeat DUI's

State Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) appeared at a press conference last week when Secretary of State Jim Edgar proposed a package of bills to crack down on repeat drunk drivers. Matijevich is a sponsor of the bills.

The new legislation would provide a five-year revocation for two DUI convictions and a 10-year revocation for three or more drunken driving convictions. Under present law, a drunken driver faces a one-year revocation regardless of the number of offenses.

Criminal sanctions for a third conviction would be upgraded to a Class 4 felony which carries a penalty of up to one to three years in jail and a $10,000 fine. This is now a misdemeanor which carries a minimum mandatory 48-consecutive-hour jail sentence or 10 days community service for second or subsequent offenses.

The package would also increase the penalty for driving with a revoked license after DUI reckless homicide or leaving the scene of a fatal or serious personal injury accident convictions. The bill would increase the penalty to a 90-day jail sentence or 364 days of public service.

Matijevich said, "Putting a motor vehicle in the hands of a repeat drunken driver is like equipping somebody with the deadliest weapon ever conceived." He commended Secretary Edgar for proposing the legislation as a strong deterrent against repeat DUI offenders.

Arts Council Will Fund CLC Feasibility Study

The College of Lake County has been awarded an Illinois Arts Council grant that will enable the college to conduct a feasibility study for a proposed community-based regional performing arts center. The grant of $18,378 will offset the cost of the feasibility study being conducted by Jerit/Boys, an Oak Park consulting firm that specializes in planning and developing performing arts centers. The CLC Office of Resource Development prepared the grant request on behalf of the college.

Russell Peterson, dean of curriculum and instruction at CLC and coordinator of the performing arts project, said the grant will help CLC accomplish many things.

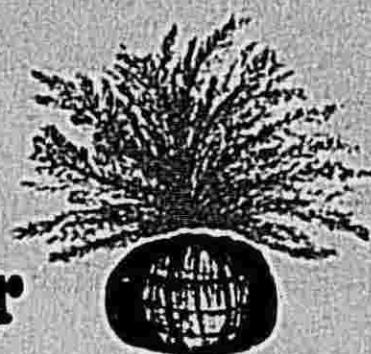

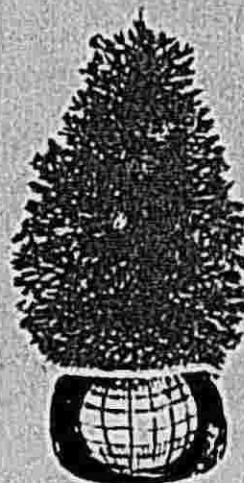

"The Illinois Arts Council grant will enable us to work with one of the best performing arts design consultants in the United States," said Peterson. "Jerit/Boys, in cooperation with the steering committee, will be able to determine the feasibility of placing a regional performing arts center on the CLC campus."

House Attempts Update Of Compensation System

Several measures introduced in the Illinois House are aimed at modernizing the state's workers' compensation system, according to State Rep. Dick Klemm (R-Crystal Lake).

Klemm said a resolution introduced establishes a 12-member Joint Committee on Workers' Compensation Reform. The committee would review the current workers' compensation system, conduct public hearings and issue recommendations to the General Assembly by May 15.

Other bills introduced would reform specific areas of the workers' compensation system. One bill would decrease the compensation period for total and permanent hearing loss from 200 weeks to 100 weeks.

Another bill introduced defines serious disfigurement. If an employee's chances for employment in a similar type of job are adversely affected by a disfigurement, then the disfigurement would be defined as serious.

Under a third bill, surviving spouses who remarry would be paid a lump sum equal to two years compensation benefits. All other rights and benefits would end. Also, if a surviving spouse with children remarries, then the child's benefits would end when he turns 18.

In other action, the following new measures were introduced in the House:

—Mail-Order Hearing Aids (HB 640) Amends the Hearing Aid Consumer

Protection Act to prohibit the retail sale of hearing aids by mail.

—Utilities Rate Increases (HB 648) Prohibits any proposal of an increase in rates or charges by public utilities within a year of the last increase.

—Rental Car Insurance (HB 555) Requires motor vehicle rental agreements to contain notice that insurance sold as part of the rental package may duplicate coverage already provided under the customer's own insurance. If this notice is not part of the agreement, the rental insurance will be effective at no cost to the customer.

—AIDS Notification (HB 563) Directs state and local public health departments to report cases of AIDS in school children to the appropriate school superintendent, to the president of the local school board, and in the case of private schools, to the school's chief administrative officer.

—Definition of Death (HB 598) Defines death as the irreversible cessation of circulatory and respiratory functions or all functions of the entire brain.

—Workplace Toxics (HB 627) Seeks to require warnings on the containers of toxic substances in workplaces to include descriptions of physical hazards, health hazards, route of entry, symptoms of acute and chronic exposure, safe handling procedures.

—Hazardous Substances (HB 725) Establishes a program administered by the Dept. of Public Health to investigate the public health risks of environmental exposure to hazardous substances.

—Children with Communicable Diseases (HB 673) Prohibits day care centers and day care homes from providing services to children known to have a communicable disease. Requires the Dept. of Children and Family Services to develop standards and procedures for providing day care services to such children.

—Underage Drinking (HB 591, 643) House Bill 591 prohibits anyone under 21 years old who has been drinking in a home from leaving that home and appearing, while intoxicated, in any public building, street or other public place except with parental accompaniment. Under HB 643, municipalities and counties could regulate or prohibit anyone under 21 years old from being on the premises of a retail business where alcohol is served.

—Drivers Licenses (HB 663, 666) Requires high school graduation or equivalency certificate before issuance or renewal of a drivers license or permit to 18-year-olds. Those who received licenses or permits before they turned 18 but who do not meet the education requirements when they turn 18 would have to surrender the permits or licenses. House Bill 666 would revoke drivers licenses or permits to dropouts until they reach 18 or receive a high school diploma.

—All-Terrain Vehicles (HB 612) Requires Class I all-terrain vehicles and off-highway motorcycles to be registered with the Dept. of Conservation. Unrefunded motor fuel tax for such vehicles will be deposited in the All-terrain Vehicle Safety Act Fund to be used for all-terrain vehicle programs administered by the department.

—Sunday Car Sales (HB 59) Would allow the sale of motor vehicles on Sunday.

—Alzheimer's Victims Benefits (HB 631, 634) Under House Bill 631, a qualifying taxpayer would have a $1,000 exemption for each member of his household who is at least 65-years old and suffers from Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder and is eligible for certain services. Alzheimer's disease would be covered under accident and health insurance policies under HB 634.

—Day Care Planning (HB 655) Calls on the Dept. of Children and Family Services to develop day care planning, including options to enable parents to complete a course of education or obtain or maintain employment. Special emphasis would be given to parents trying to finish high school and to participants in the Project Chance job training program.

—Comparable Worth (HB 678) Requires that pay plans covering state employees under the State Universities Civil Service System be based on comparable worth.

—Agriculture Summer School (HB 691) Creates the Illinois Summer School for Agriculture at Illinois State University to provide enriched and agricultural study for high school students to superior academic skills.

Bill Package Targets Repeat Drunk Drivers

A three-bill package of legislation to crack down on repeat drunk drivers has been proposed by Secretary of State Jim Edgar and will be submitted to the General Assembly with bi-partisan support.

"Illinois now has one of the best drunk driving laws in the nation, but it is not tough enough on repeat offenders," Edgar said. "The drivers license penalty is the same, whether it is a first offense or a fifth offense, and that is not fair."

"We believe the overall number of drunk drivers has declined, but concern over repeat offenders has grown. Too often we hear of drunk drivers who cause senseless tragedies and receive little or no penalty for their offenses."

Edgar said Illinois' new driving under the influence law has shown remarkable success in getting drunk drivers off the road with 47,000 offenders losing driving privileges during 1986—the first year of the new law.

The proposed new legislation would require a five-year revocation for two DUI convictions and a 10-year revocation for three or more convictions. Presently there is a one-year period of revocation regardless of number of offenses.

Criminal sanctions for a third conviction would be upgraded to a Class 4 felon which carries a penalty of up to one to three years in jail and a $10,000 fine. This is now a misdemeanor offense which carries a minimum mandatory 48-consecutive-hour jail sentence or 10 days community service for second or subsequent offenses.

"It is time for Illinois to provide a strong measure of deterrence to those who drive drunk again and again. We have a responsibility to deal more firmly with offenders who choose to flaunt the law at the expense of random victims in society," Edgar said.

A second proposal would increase the penalty for driving while revoked when the revocation resulted from DUI, reckless homicide or leaving the scene of a fatal or serious personal injury accident. This legislation would increase the criminal penalty to a 90-day jail sentence or 364 days of public service. Driving while revoked is now punishable by a seven-day jail sentence or 30 days of public service. Second or subsequent offenses are Class Four felonies. That penalty would remain the same.

Receive Luggage

Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services Director Gordon Johnson announced that DCFS has received a gift of 600 tote bags from Pizza Huts of Illinois to be used as luggage for foster children.

"Up til now, many of our foster children had to use plastic bags to carry things from one house to another," Johnson said. "Thanks to this caring donation from Pizza Hut, we can give DCFS foster children a stylish luggage item that neither our agency nor the children's families would have been able to afford."

There are now approximately 27,000 Illinois drivers with two DUIs on their records, and 9,000 with three or more DUI convictions.

The last major bill in the package is designed to outlaw fake ID cards which look like drivers' licenses and are proffered by back door and mail order businesses. The measure would prohibit the use of design criteria for official Illinois identification cards.

"We must stop the proliferation of phony ID cards which get into the hands of our young people who use them to buy alcohol illegally," Edgar said.

"Under this legislation we intend to dry-up the supply of phony cards by putting those persons who manufacture, duplicate or sell them out of business."

The legislation would ban such cards if they resemble a genuine Illinois drivers license or ID card in size, color or photo location. Such cards could also not use a map of Illinois or the words "State," "official," or "Illinois." The cards would also be required to have disclaimers in black, 12-point type.

Violation of the proposed statute would increase from a Class B misdemeanor to a Class A misdemeanor.

The legislation will be sponsored by Representatives John mMatejevich (D-Waukegan), Thomas McCracken (R-Westmont), John Cullerton (D-Chicago), John Countryman (R-DeKalb), John O'Connell (D-Willow Springs), Roger McAuliffe (R-Chicago), and Alfred Ronan (D-Chicago).

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Weekly Tip: Cool hot tempers before you get burned.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) There's some better news from a relative. Keep pressing for more cooperation among family members as you work to ease the pressures.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) An on-the-job change causes disruptions, but things soon calm. An unpleasant person with problems of his own tries to cause problems for you.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A pair of coworkers cause problems. Calm your anger. Face them coolly and demand changes in their behavior. Consult superiors.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) Doubts about a relationship continue to cause you to fret. Could be your instincts are keener than your emotions. Ask some direct questions.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 22) Someone lies to keep you from learning all the facts you need. Don't waste your energy trying to get the truth from this source.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A pressing dilemma takes more time and energy than you need to spend to sort things out. Do what you have to do, then get on with other tasks.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) An emphasis on health matters finds your health improves as you pay more attention to minor matters before they become major factors.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) A romantic venture needs a little more time to mature before you can begin to think of a more permanent commitment. Take the time to really get to know one another well.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) If you feel pressed for an answer to a romantic commitment, resist. It's still too early to make such important decisions now.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Family gets a more positive picture of what you're planning as you become more open with them. Reduce tensions that have begun to rise by talking.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) It's the little things that cause more irritation than you want to experience. Don't let them go unresolved. Nipped in the bud keeps them from growing.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) An important situation needs to be given more thought. Be patient. Much appears on the surface that doesn't extend down deeply enough.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Weekly Tip: Cool hot tempers before you get burned.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) There's some better news from a relative. Keep pressing for more cooperation among family members as you work to ease the pressures.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) An on-the-job change causes disruptions, but things soon calm. An unpleasant person with problems of his own tries to cause problems for you.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A pair of coworkers cause problems. Calm your anger. Face them coolly and demand changes in their behavior. Consult superiors.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) Doubt about a relationship continue to cause you to fret. Could be your instincts are keener than your emotions. Ask some direct questions.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Someone lies to keep you from learning all the facts you need. Don't waste your energy trying to get the truth from this source.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A pressing dilemma takes more time and energy than you need to spend to sort things out. Do what you have to do, then get on with other tasks.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) An emphasis on health matters finds your health improves as you pay more attention to minor matters before they become major factors.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) A romantic venture needs a little more time to mature before you can begin to think of a more permanent commitment. Take the time to really get to know one another well.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) If you feel pressed for an answer to a romantic commitment, resist. It's still too early to make such important decisions now.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Family gets a more positive picture of what you're planning as you become more open with them. Reduce tensions that have begun to rise by talking.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) It's the little things that cause more irritation than you want to experience. Don't let them go unresolved. Nipped in the bud keeps them from growing.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) An important situation needs to be given more thought. Be patient. Much appears on the surface that doesn't extend down deeply enough.
